"WIND BLANK" AT TIME OF DEATH CAMPBELL SAYS

Accused Torch Slayer On
Witness Stand In Own
Behalf

ADmits SIGNING OF CONFESSION

Served Terms In Mexico
And California Jails;
Uses Morphine

Elizabeth N. J., June 12.—A veritable bag of bones, Henry Colin Campbell, running a twitching, salivary hand through his white hair, resumed the witness stand today for a further cross-examination at his trial for the alleged torch murder of Mrs. Mildred Mowry, his bigamous wife.

His under-hanging jaw moved nervously as he stuttered answers to the aggressive questions of Prosecutor Abe J. David. The 61-year-old man apparently missed the question to which he confessed he was an addict.

His third wife, Mrs. Rosalie Campbell looking almost as pale as her husband, was in court to support his fight to escape the electric chair.

Mind A "Blank"
Campbell's defense is that his mind "went blank" between the time he started out with Mrs. Mowry from Philadelphia in his automobile for Westfield, N. J., his home. The burned body of the victim was found at Cranford, N. J., on February 23.

"Do you remember when I took you to the scene of your crime on April 18 and you showed me about where the body was lying?" asked Prosecutor David.

"I don't remember," stuttered Campbell. "I don't even remember anything."

Campbell didn't remember anything, didn't remember seeing the prosecutor, didn't remember how he was in Folsom prison, California, didn't remember sending a telegram on January 1 to Mrs. R. M. Campbell at Greenville, Pa., or having a confession of his crime.

FARMERS HEAR EXPERTS TALK

Costs of Agriculture Are Discussed At Meeting
In Canton

Canton, O., June 12.—There are three principal ways in which farmers may reduce their production costs, C. R. Arnold, agricultural economist at Ohio State university told 200 Northern Ohio Farm Bureau members today at concluding sessions of their two day convention.

The three methods, he said, are by doing a bigger business, using labor more efficiently and getting better yields.

"Too many farmers," Arnold declared, "are doing business on too small a scale. Taxes, insurance, interest and depreciation go on and are about the same whether we sell 10 hogs or 100 hogs a year. The small farm business is too costly per unit. There is too much overhead."

Co-operative purchasing is one of the most effective means of reducing farm production costs, Mr. Arnold declared.

Mr. Lincoln, general manager of the Ohio Farm Bureau corporation, declared co-operation between agriculture and industry and within the ranks of agriculture was summed up as the keynote of the meeting.

Mr. L. B. Palmer, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau, declared the remedy for the great majority of economic ills in America must be collective action by State and Local Industrial associations and agricultural groups, acting in their particular state," Palmer asserted.

Famous Actress In Double Tragedy

AFTER being a star in many Broadway attractions, Margaret Lawrence, co-starred with Louis Bennison in a tragedy which is shaking Broadway to its foundations. Their dead bodies were found in the actress' pent house apartment on Park avenue, New York, bathed in their own blood. The police theory is that Bennison, former rival of Tom Mix for star wild west roles, shot the star and then took his own life. The tragedy reveals for the first time a secret love affair between the actor and Margaret Lawrence, widow of Wallace Eddinger.

Senate Rejects Farm Bill Report; Rebuff For Hoover

Debuture Plan In Measure Is Cause; House Will Now Vote On Problem; Leaders Have Not Permitted House Vote So Far

Washington, June 12.—President Hoover's farm relief program faced a somewhat troubled future today as a result of the senate's rejection of the farm bill conference report because the export debenture plan had been abandoned.

It was the third distinct rebuff which the senate has handed the White House this special session of congress.

The expectation today was, however, that the house will vote on the debenture plan tomorrow, defeat it, and send the bill back to the senate where it will be finally enacted. Such at any rate was the hope of administration leaders today after a night of conferences.

Thus far house leaders have declined to let the house vote directly on the debenture. They took the arbitrary and, to the senate, the laughable position that the debenture was a revenue-raising provision and thus could not originate in the senate under the constitution.

The real reason, however, why house leaders have refused to let the house vote on it is because they hoped to save members the political embarrassment of being recorded for or against it. Many mid-western Republicans favor the debenture, as do the powerful farm organizations. At the same time the members don't want to be recorded in opposition to the president. Hence the easier plan was to avoid a vote on it.

MYSTERY SEEN IN BRIDGE FIRE

Ohio Span Burns To Water
Incendiarism Suspected
By Authorities

Toledo, O., June 12.—Suspecting incendiarism, authorities today pushed the investigation into the burning of the $15,000 wooden bridge connecting Presque Isle, one and a half miles north of here, with the mainland, last night.

A crane being used on construction work on the island was also mysteriously damaged.

R. C. Lewinsky, caretaker at the island, who witnessed the bridge burn, declared he believed it had been soaked with crude oil.

Presque Island was recently purchased by the Van Sweringen interests, of Cleveland, for the construction of a $6,000,000 rail-lake terminal.

The bridge was repaired last week at a cost of $1,000. It is entirely of wood. It burned quickly to the water's edge. It was the only span connecting the island with the mainland.

INJURED MAN DIES OF WOUND

Bullet From Guardsman's Gun Said
Cause of Death; Charges Loom
Against Officer

Detroit, June 12.—Archibald Eustace, 21, reputed fisherman, died in Delray Industrial hospital today, a victim of a custom's border patrol agent's bullet.

The youth lived for more than 25 hours after a bullet from the gun of Inspector Jonah Cox felled him from ambush near the outlet of River Rouge.

Late yesterday Eustace's sister, Minnie, gave a blood transfusion, but it was to no avail.

Immediate action was expected from Prosecutor James E. Chenot today as to the charges, if any, to be placed against Cox. Chenot had previously announced he would take no steps pending the outcome of the boy's condition.

Congressman Robert J. Clancy and Clarence J. McLeod arrived in Detroit today from Washington to make a complete investigation of the affair and possible to demand a congressional investigation.

Witnesses told police that Angelo Leonardo, 21, son of "Big Joe" Leonardo, slain sugar baron, was at the wheel of the automobile and that Mrs. Concetta Leonardo, his mother was at his side. Another man was in the rear seat, they said.

Mrs. Leonardo, questioned by detectives last night, denied any knowledge of the crime and said she had been shopping at the time. Angelo Leonardo also is sought for questioning.

LONDON BUZZES AS RUMOR LINKS WALES, INGRID OF SWEDEN

No Definite Announcement In English Press, But Those Reading Between Lines See Engagement
Soon; Secretary Makes Denial

London, June 12.—While London continued to buzz today with reports that the engagement of the Prince of Wales to Princess Ingrid of Sweden may be announced shortly, no definite confirmation of the rumormongers could be obtained from authoritative sources.

The customary categorical denial was issued by Sir Godfrey Thomas, the prince's private secretary, but in spite of this, it was regarded as significant that virtually all London newspapers, while making no direct mention of the reported match, devoted considerable space today to descriptions of the Swedish royal princess, extolling her virtues and her beauty.

The press of England is guided by an unseen hand in its cautious chronicling of the affairs of the British Royal family, and it would be regarded as a serious breach of etiquette if actual speculation were made in the newspapers concerning

Floyd Ash, Uhrichsville minister, for a divorce decree, entered its second day in common pleas court here today.

Mrs. Ash charges her husband, who is 48 years of age and gray-haired, with having "undue affection for Mary Saunders, 16-year-old freckled-faced ward of Tuscarawas county," who formerly lived in the Ash home.

The warrant on which Fisher was taken into custody was sworn to by the dead woman's brother, Orben Barnett, Bellbrook, O.

JINX FOLLOWS SWEDISH PLANE

Fail In Four Attempts
To Get Long Flight
Started

Reykjavik, Iceland, June 12.—Captain Albin Ahrenberg, Swedish aviator who with two companions, made another false start today in their attempted trans-Atlantic flight from Stockholm to New York.

Shortly after they hopped off at 8:41 a. m. (Iceland time) for Igittut, Greenland, they returned. This was the fourth time the Scandinavian aviators had attempted the flight from Iceland to Greenland since yesterday morning.

Reykjavik, Iceland, June 12.—Captain Albin Ahrenberg, Swedish aviator who with two companions is attempting to blaze a new trans-Atlantic air trail, hopes to take off again from here today in the Junkers monoplane Sverige for Igittut, Greenland.

Ill-luck has dogged the attempts of the airmen to get away from Reykjavik thus far, for three hop-offs yesterday proved unsuccessful.

The first time the plane was hardly able to rise from the surface of the harbor. Some gasoline was dumped and a second start made some time later. An hour or so after the start, the airmen found motor vibration had cracked their propeller.

A new one was installed, and the final take-off of the day was made late in the afternoon, but the discovery of a fuel leak necessitated a third return at 6:14 last night.

In spite of setbacks, Captain Ahrenberg and his companions are cheerful, and are hopeful of making a successful start today. From Igittut, the fliers plan to head out over the Atlantic making a halt in the St. Lawrence river before proceeding to New York.

AUNT, UNCLE TO ASK POSSESSION OF 10-YEAR GIRL

Betty Jane Coleroloi Was Taken from Salem By Her Mother

ERIE POLICE FIND CHILD WITH PARENT

No Charges Lodged In Pennsylvania City
Against Couple

Betty Jane Coleroloi, 10-year-old ward of Mr. and Mrs. George Shunk, 68 Gartfield ave., is safe at the home of her mother and stepfather in Erie, Pa., police authorities of that city reported today, clearing up the mystery surrounding the girl's disappearance from Salem, last Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Coleroloi, 2522 Brandes st., Erie, informed George J. Christoph, captain of detectives in Erie, yesterday afternoon, that they had motored to Salem Sunday morning, and had picked the child up while she was enroute to Sunday school at the Nazarene church, Green st.

No Charges Lodged
No charges were lodged against the couple in Erie, but possibilities that a legal battle for possession of Betty Jane, would be lodged by Mr. and Mrs. Shunk, the girl's uncle and aunt, loomed today, with Mrs. Shunk's statement that she will consult Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, in Lisbon on the case this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Shunk stated this morning that they will push the case to the limit in efforts to regain possession of their ward, who had resided with them for more than a year. Betty Jane, they explained, had never wanted to return to her mother, and only one request was made by either Mr. or Mrs. Coleroloi in the past year concerning her return to Erie.

Request Child.
The only request made by Mrs. Coleroloi, Mrs. Shunk stated today, was made last March, when she asked that Betty Jane be withdrawn from school here, and taken to Erie. On consulting Salem attorneys, Mrs. Shunk says, she was advised to continue Betty Jane at school, and not to return her to her mother and stepfather. No additional word was received from either Mr. or Mrs. Coleroloi, she states.

Betty Jane had been living with her grandparents in Erie up until a year ago, when the latter moved to this city, where they lived with Mr. and Mrs. Shunk. They returned later to their Pennsylvania home, leaving the girl with her aunt and uncle. The grandparents had been given legal custody of Betty Jane by an Erie court, when Mrs. Coleroloi was divorced from her first husband.

RALPH STOFFER CONDITION GOOD

Wounded officer Improves
In Hospital; To Be Released Soon

Patrolman Ralph Stoffer, who sustained a serious gunshot wound when a riot gun accidentally discharged, Monday afternoon, is reported in an improved condition in City hospital today.

Stoffer was wounded in the right leg, below the hip, when he attempted to withdraw a combination test gas and riot gun from his belt to show it to Arthur R. Stark, assistant cashier of the First National bank, on their return from the Farmer's National bank, where they had deposited securities. Six of the 12 shots from the 12-gauge shotgun shell, lodged in his leg.

Stark, it was explained today, did not handle the gun previous to its accidental discharge. Stoffer, while they were entering the First National bank, asked him to look the gun over, and on attempting to pull it from his belt, accidentally pulled the trigger.

Stoffer spent a comfortable night, and probably will be released from the hospital early next week, it was reported today. He will be away from his duties as city traffic patrolman for three weeks.

THE RISING COST OF GOVERNMENT

Some amazing figures were given out in Columbus, this week, gleaned from the report of a survey made by the Ohio Chamber of Commerce.

We are prepared for the information that taxes on the steam railroads in 1928 amounted to $2,964,706 and that the electric roads of the state paid taxes aggregating $674,000. We were not surprised to learn that $836,880 represented seventy-five per cent of the cigarette taxes collected, the remaining twenty-five per cent going to the federal government. We realized that the taxes paid by domestic corporations and insurance companies were large, and hence passed over with a glance that their tax expenditures were $5,319,000 and $5,843,344, respectively. We noted with indifference that universities and colleges paid $2,341,525 taxes on their properties, but there was some surprise for us in that $571,280 had been paid as a result of the new hunters' law and that offenses against the prohibition law had resulted in payments to the state aggregating $385,217.

But, frankly, the statement that there was connected in Ohio general property taxes in 1928 an aggregate of $333,289,172 was a matter for amazement.

We do not know what the assessed valuation of property subject to general property taxes were in 1928. We haven't the figures at hand. But in 1926 it was $12,679,777,000. That the people should pay out taxes on this valuation, or one probably somewhat larger, to the amount of $333,289,172, which does not include delinquent taxes, and the various special taxes they are forced to bear, for government—state, county, township and municipal—was almost beyond belief.

The sum of $333,289,172 for government, and not overly good government at that! Why, that is but something like $500,000 less than the ordinary receipts and something like $60,000,000 more than the entire ordinary expenditures of the United States government fifty years ago! And over four times what the people of Ohio paid out for taxes nineteen years ago, the figures for 1910 having been $75,819,705!

How much longer will the people of Ohio, and those of practically all the states of the union, for that matter, be able to stand this awful rising cost of government?

What Others Say

HE'S A GOOD BIRD

Sentimentality has no place in the make-up of the United States department of agriculture. Neither esthetic nor broadly humanitarian influences govern the issuance of department propaganda. And now that the department is preaching to every one that the European starling is a good bird one may be assured that his quality of goodness is strictly practical, and that it has nothing to do with his intelligence, his morality, his aspect or his generally likable qualities.

The way this hard-headed department establishes the goodness of a bird is to kill some thousands of them and examine with meticulous care the contents of their craws and stomachs. Several startling bulletins have been issued, ranging from doubtfulness at first to complete approval at present. The latest is based upon an examination of the innards of 2,600 starlings slain specially for this scientific research, and establishes the fact that the degeneration of innumerable harmful insects may do to certain special agricultural interests.

So the 2,600 have not died in vain. They have even their lives that many more thousands may live and prosper in their adopted land. And on the whole one is rather glad. The starling does not belong, but he is such a canny, good-natured, unobtrusive, self-respecting bird that he has won the admiration of most bird lovers who feared for a time that he would become a second English sparrow in general pestiferousness—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Stars Say

For Thursday, June 13

Affairs of love and friendship dominate on this day, according to the nature of planetary intervention in human affairs. It is a day on which the human and humane note is struck. The activities will largely be devoted to social, domestic, romantic, artistic and pleasurable pursuits and vocations. It would be wise to be on guard against misunderstandings or ill-report, especially in the matter of correspondence or other writings.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of activities stressing the personal rather than the business note, unless their business involves art, music, amusement, domestic and feminine catering. Friendships and pleasure will engage the attention largely, but be cautious as to writings and safeguard against misrepresentation and slander.

A child born on this day may be popular, artistic, musical, devoted to pleasure, romance, and the finer things of life. It may, however, need training as to veracity and dependability.

Such help as we can give each other in this world is a debt we owe each other.—Ruskin.

WHY ARE YOU ALWAYS IN PERFECT HEALTH?

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

(United States Senator from New York)

DR. COPELAND

I have a suspicion that many persons suffer needlessly from muscle and joint pains. One of the most common of human complaints is back-ache. Neuritis, rheumatism as well as lumbago and sciatica, are among the things which take the joy out of life.

We hear so much about the suffering of the human race that I sometimes wonder how many persons there are who never have an ache or pain. There come to my desk every day hundreds of letters from every part of the world. One day recently more than a thousand such letters arrived.

I realize, of course, that persons who are never sick are unlikely to write. Many of the unaffected, however, are kind enough to express their appreciation of my efforts to keep them well. You will recall that the central theme of every one of these articles is how to avoid sickness. It is the business of the family doctor to treat the sick. I can conceive it to be my job to do the best I can to keep you from illness.

But the particular thing I have in mind today is to find out how many people never have aches and pains. I should really like to hear about this. If somebody should read these lines who is never sick, who never has a headache, a toothache or a backache, please write and tell me about it. At the same time, please be good enough to tell me why you think you have been so well.

I am sure we are agreed that it would be a wonderful thing if we could make health contagious instead of having disease contagious. The only way to do this is by establishing such standards of living as have been found to be successful in the maintenance of health.

If you have been well all your life, if you have been free from aches and pains, if you have good teeth, strong muscles and smoothly working joints, we want to know the reason why you have been so fortunate. Certainly you have convictions as to why you have good health. Give us the benefit of your convictions.

H. H. S. Q.—What do you advise for thin dry hair?
A.—Brush the hair daily and use a good stimulating tonic.
N. Q.—Is it necessary to omit salt from the diet where there is a rheumatic tendency?
2.—Is four glasses of water and two glasses of milk taken daily too much fluid?
A.—No.
2.—No.

S. S. M. Q.—What can be done for varicose veins on the legs? I am only 25 years of age and this is very embarrassing?
A.—Keeping off the feet as much as possible and wearing an elastic stocking or bandage on the leg during the daytime should bring about improvement. Undue exertion will tend to increase the tension of the blood through the veins and aggravate the existing condition.

M. B. Q.—What can be done for pimples and blackheads?
A.—The diet should be corrected and constipation overcome.
G. L. H. Q.—How can I reduce?
A.—Weight reduction is merely a matter of self-control as regards the diet. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

TREASURY WILL QUIZZ KILLINGS

Officials Will Not Defend Improper Use Of Firearms

Washington, June 12.—Greatly surprised by two new prohibition officials in the Canadian border, Treasury officials today promised removal from office of any exceeding his authority in the use of firearms.

Investigations by special agents in progress in the killing of a man by a customs guard at Port Huron, Minn., and the killing of a boy by another customs guard at Detroit, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Seymour expected preliminary reports within a few days.

The treasury, of course, will be in the reports. Lowman, the customs men violated regulations, they will be dealt severely.

The government will make no attempt to appear in court. It would it develop that they were exceeding their authority. "Clearly when prohibition or enforcement agents are held in state courts, they are transferred into the federal courts and they are defended by United States attorneys at the expense of the treasury department. Prohibition agents have been taken to the courts when ordered by killing bootleggers, suspected others, when on duty."

Marlborough House Still Minus Tenant

London, June 12.—Marlborough House, which was destined to be the home of the Prince of Wales, is going begging. The Prince refuses to leave James Palace, a more modest residence where he has lived for years. Marlborough House is without a tenant.

An Alexandra occupied Marlborough House until her death. It then decided that the Prince should take over Marlborough House, giving him more comfortable quarters. Marlborough House was entirely remodelled and situated under the direction of Mrs. Mary.

The Prince of Wales was sent to South Africa, and his more important belongings were moved from St. James' Palace to Marlborough House. Upon the Prince's return, he immediately ordered the things taken back to James Palace.

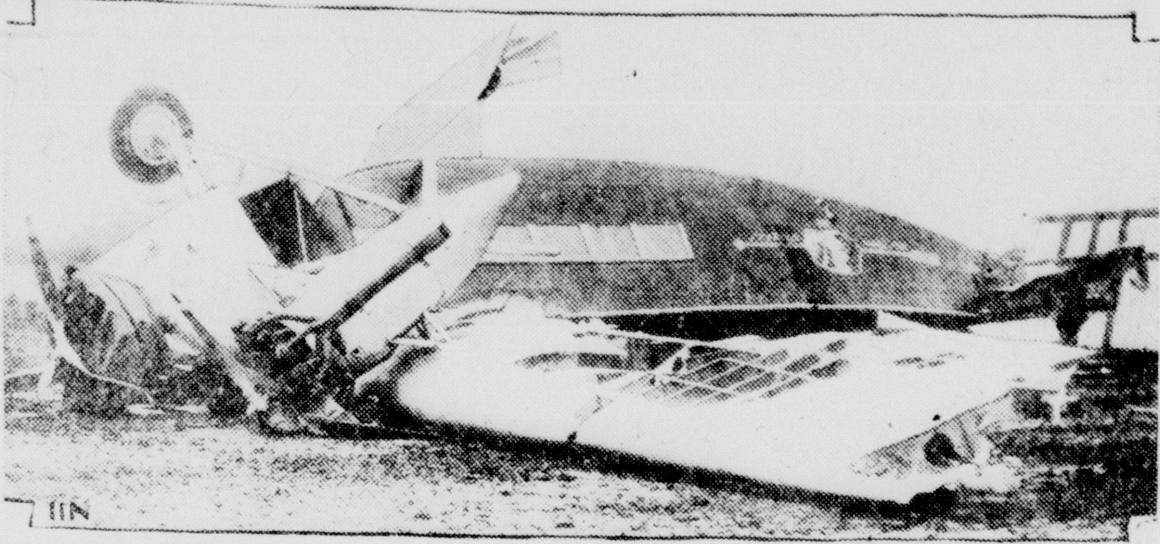

Now authorities are at a loss to know what to do with Marlborough House. It has been suggested that it be put at the disposal of the British government.

Swedish Stove To Be 'Canned' Heat

Stockholm, June 12.—Dr. Gustaf Soderstrom, the Nobel prize winner for his automatic light house, who has since invented the "canned" heat, has now created a device which likewise may be of immense benefit to the human race. It is a kitchen range which stores heat and delivers it only at desired temperatures.

This stove which has just been patented in the inventor's own home, immediately outside of Stockholm, is fired with fine coke, of which it consumes about seven pounds every 24 hours. It needs only once a day, but regardless of the draft or amount of fuel, the only temperature set. The rest it stores up in insulated central battery through which the heat must pass. Thus it never touches the pots and pans and for cooking purposes it is exactly like an electric stove. The accumulator range also heats and has one oven for baking and another that can be used as a fireless cooker.

Storm Ruins $300,000 Worth of Planes

A severe wind storm which swept two airports at Wichita, Kansas, caused over $300,000 damages. The western air express, a trimotored Fokker plane, is shown above entirely ruined as a result of the storm, and the damage to this plane is estimated at approximately $50,000.

Ballots Burned As Factions Quarrel

Perpignan, June 12.—A bonfire of great political brilliance celebrated the election here.

It was caused by the burning of the ballots of all the citizens of the city in a dispute between the rival factions in local politics.

The counting of votes had reached its height. The party ahead was accused of fraud. A fiery quarrel broke out at the crisis of which the mayor seized the remaining ballot boxes and hurled them in the fire.

A free for all brawl ensued in which black eyes and furious epithets were given and received. The result of the miscarried election is a general confusion, with the mayor and his secretary under arrest and the town without new officials.

LEETONIA

The Standard Bearers of the Methodist church held their first annual Mothers and Daughters banquet in the Methodist parish house, with thirty present. The tables were placed in the form of a hollow square and were artistically decorated in the season's flowers in shades of yellow and white.

The affair being arranged under the capable direction of Mrs. L. E. Fisher. The organization is a young women's missionary society of the M. E. church and members of the Women's Society of the church were invited guests.

Following the serving of the elaborate dinner prepared and served by the young ladies of the organization a program was given.

Carol Fisher gave a piano solo entitled "Soldiers' March," and Miss Minnette Esterley played "Birds of Paradise" on the piano.

Mrs. F. L. Smith, a member of the Women's society gave a very inspiring and encouraging talk to the young ladies as a greeting from the Senior Society. The affair was so enjoyable that it was unanimously voted to make it an annual affair.

It was learned here on Sunday that Mrs. George Holman of Alliance had died following a paralytic stroke which later developed into inflammation of the brain. Mrs. Holmes was formerly Miss Lenna McNickle of Leetonia.

The elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aelx McNickle of Somer street, was aged about sixty-two and was a graduate of the Leetonia High school. Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at her late home with burial in Alliance.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace E. Falls returned Monday from their wedding trip. The young people who were married last Wednesday left the same day by motor, keeping their destination a secret. They now report having driven approximately 1200 miles, visiting Mammoth Cave in Kentucky, also Hodgenville, Ky., the birthplace of Abraham Lincoln and viewing the log cabin in which he was born. This cabin is now being cared for by having a large building completely covering it. Mr. and Mrs. Falls also attended the Presbyterian church in Helsboro, where Mrs. Morgan organized the W. C. T. U. some years ago. They also visited a number of interesting points along the way, both going and returning, taking a different route each way.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Weikart who were guests here in the home of Mrs. Weikart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crothers and in Washingtonville in the home of Mr. Weikart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Weikart, left for their home in Detroit, Michigan on Sunday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Weikart's brother and sister, Thomas and Jean Crothers who will visit there for several weeks.

Ernest Barnes and adopted son, Robert White of Cleveland motored here on Saturday and were over the week end guests in the home of Mrs. Tillie McNulty. Returning Sunday evening they were accompanied by Mrs. Barnes who had visited for several days with her sister Mrs. McNulty.

Mr. and Mrs. Enos Davis and family Ruth, Mary, Albert and Paul of East Palestine were Sunday visitors in the home of Mrs. Amos Greenlee on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Greenlee and her guests motored to Lisbon and called on Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Smith and daughter, Miss Katherine of Cleveland are visiting in the home of Mrs. Smith's brother, Martin Gibbins and family.

Mrs. Bartley Conroy and little daughter, Mary Rose of Newark, N. Y., are visiting in the home of Mrs. Conroy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Feyock.

Merle Greenamyer of Philadelphia, Pa. was an over the week end guest of his mother, Mrs. Mary Greenamyer.

Miss May Ashley, a student at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, Mich., returned Sunday evening to spend her summer vacation here in the home of her mother, Mrs. Eva S. G. Ashley.

Ralph Oltot was a Columbiana caller on Monday.

BRAND RACES LAW VIOLATION

Enforcement League Head Will Seek End of Horse Racing At Bainbridge

Chardon, O. June 12.—Joseph E. Johnson, Middlefield manufacturer and head of the Geauga county law enforcement league, in a letter published in the Burton Leader today branded the Bainbridge race track, at which a race meet is now in progress, as the "greatest gambling institution in Ohio, if not in the nation."

Johnson declares he has obtained the legal opinion of Chief Justice Marshall of the Ohio supreme court, ex-governor Donahay, and former attorney general Edward C. Turner, and that they all hold the "contribution" system of betting, used at Bainbridge is illegal.

Two thousand persons have signed a petition that the Bainbridge track be closed, Johnson asserts, and the only reason the petition is not given Prosecutor Richard Bostwick, of Geauga county, is that the law enforcement league believes that Bostwick would not take action.

The prosecutor has made up his mind, Johnson asserts, that the track is profitable to Geauga county and his ruling that the system of betting used there is legal, is contrary to the ideas of the highest authorities in the state, Johnson says.

Man's First Words Will Be Revealed

Colombo (Ceylon), June 12.—Discovery of a lexicon which he claims will disclose the roots of spoken languages from the time man first began to speak is announced by Father S. Gnanaparakas, of Jaffna, Ceylon.

The lexicon, it is asserted, will render great service to students of the science of linguistics and help them to pursue their studies in a logical and orderly manner.

It was learned here on Sunday that there must have been a primitive language from which all existing speeches have been derived. What that primitive language was, however, philologists hitherto have

English Film Fans Go 'Talky Crazy'

London, June 12.—English film "fans" have gone "talky" crazy, and for the silent silver screen their craziness is the "writing on the wall."

With the advent of the "talky," a vast struggle for supremacy in the field of talking films and talking film apparatus is taking place, between British and American producers and British and American electrical combines.

The American talky film firms operating in this country, with the Western Electric behind them, are making every effort to secure control of British cinema theatres and to obstruct the showing of British talking films on American machinery.

To this end, the American firms are offering British cinema owners 50 per cent of all net takings on condition they lease their cinemas for five years and install Western Electric apparatus for the showing of talkies made on this apparatus.

In addition, the American leasing firms will be responsible for running expenses and are agreeable to bear the cost of scrapping any films of other types already booked. At the end of the lease the theatre will be handed back to its owners plus the apparatus installed.

DRY OPERATIVES MAKE BIG HAUL

Smoke Screen Fails To Halt Federal Men In Pursuit

Mt. Gilead, O. June 12.—A five-mile chase in which Federal dry agents experienced much difficulty in keeping their car on the road due to a smoke-screen laid down by an alleged rumrunner early today resulted in the seizure of 180 gallons of purported whiskey and of a large high-powered roadster.

Joe Conrad, driver of the car, was arrested and will be arraigned before the Federal commissioner at Columbus late this afternoon.

He was running the liquor through from Cleveland. Federal officers declared.

When the federal officers demanded the car to stop, a smoke screen was laid down in their faces. The supposed rum-runner was captured after a five-mile chase, however. No shots were fired.

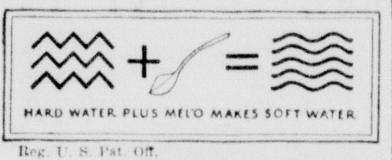

In describing the entrapment of Conrad, Federal authorities described it as "one of the biggest hauls."

By moving a lever a novel automobile can be lifted and endless tread traction substituted for its wheels.

Take that dirty ring out of your bathtub!

AFTER a bath, hard water leaves a dirty ring. The soap combines with the hardness and makes scum. The scum collects dirt. The dirty ring sticks to the sides of the bathtub. It has to be scrubbed off.

But soften the water with Melo and there isn't any dirty ring on your bathtub. Melo makes water delightfully soft and a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap. It saves from 1/3 to 1/2 the amount ordinarily used. It makes soap more effective. Use Melo wherever you want soft water. Get it at your grocer's.

AMERICA'S LOWEST-PRICED FULL-SIZE CAR

A FIVE-YEAR-OLD FORECAST MORE THAN REALIZED

June 7, 1924 "the Chrysler is, in reality, the first step in the general revision of motor car design which is bound to follow its advent. For it is an entirely new type of car, built on a new kind of engineering, which produces results radically different from any heretofore registered in the industry."

—Advertisement Saturday Evening Post June 7, 1924

CHRYSLER'S INFLUENCE ON YOUR CAR

It has become an axiom of the motor car industry that much of what comes tomorrow originates in what Chrysler engineering does today.

For five years, Chrysler has been the acknowledged leader in thrilling performance. For five years, Chrysler has led the way in individuality and modern smartness of design.

Those in possession of the facts know that there is scarcely a motor car today that does not owe some improvement in its make-up to Chrysler—and has not become a better car by reason of Chrysler engineering achievement.

Emulation is a nice compliment to Chrysler leadership, of course. But the mere copying of features cannot equal the complete Chrysler results.

To you who are about to choose a new car, a natural question arises: Why not enjoy a Chrysler itself, so long as Chrysler smartness, comfort, performance and quality are the goals to which other cars are striving? Let us show you in a test of your own choosing the superiority of Chrysler to anything aspiring to compete with Chrysler.

CHRYSLER "75"—$1535 to $1795—Eight Body Styles. CHRYSLER "65"—$1040 to $1145—Six Body Styles. All prices f. o. b. factory. Chrysler dealers extend convenient time payments.

Tourists To Have Radio For Autos

New York, June 12.—Summer tourists who have been listening eagerly for the call of the Open Road will not have to say goodbye to their radio this season. These two aids to recreation providing for touring and for entertainment, have been united in an ingenious device.

The automobile-radio, the invention of William Heina, incorporates a full-sized radio as an integral part of the automobile. Through an interference-tampering device the squawks and squeals which ordinarily would result from the high tension ignition system of the automobile have been completely eliminated. The radio will function clearly in an automobile speeding through the country at 60 miles an hour.

Heina worked for four years in his laboratory in Long Island City, and with radio sets installed on a hundred different cars, before announcing his perfected invention.

The invention, which Heina calls "Transitone," consists of a six tube, six volt radio receiver completely enclosed in a stout copper box and installed behind the automobile dash, with the radio dials placed in the center of the instrument board.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, June 12.—Footing frocks for French women, as well as for any others; are intended for the demi-sportive set, the women who do not take sport too seriously and have no fear of the figures on the scale or for the figure in the mirror.

They are worn by the gentle pedestrian when she "takes the air," as the French put it in the Bois on a fine spring morning, or basks in the sunshine of the lovely Parc Monceau.

Bright canary-yellow in a heavy crepe of silk and wool makes a charming footing costume which suggests just enough warmth. The jacket is almost classic in its tailoring and the blouse is appliqued with strips of satin which make a great textural difference although they are also of the canary-yellow shade.

Another comes in navy wool crepe with a sweater of wool with red and navy-blue stripes running diagonally. These tri-color combinations continue to be very popular, and are likely to be seen at Deauville, Biarritz and all the smart resorts this year.

A smart footing ensemble is shown in beige woolen material with fox collar of the same shade and the frock of beige crepe de Chine with rows of encrusted bands on both the bodice and skirt and a belt of the material with a bright buckle. One in almond-green has a blouse of the same, with long triangular encrustations of a fine green and white checked wool and high scarf of plain green.

A footing ensemble of wool crepe uses one of the fashionable striped fabrics in tones of grey that shade into black. The dress with its cross stripes, covered by the coat which is also cross-striped, is designed to let stripe meet stripe in the inner and outer garment, making and interesting syncopated rhythm when Madame moves around.

Sures On Credit Is New German Idea

Berlin, June 12.—Cures on credit is the latest device of a group of German financiers and hotel owners to encourage people to spend their vacation at a German spa even if they do not have enough ready cash.

About 150 owners of hotels or boarding houses all over Germany cooperate with a group of money-lenders with a view to extend credits to government employees or other employees in the maximum amount of a month's salary. They formed a corporation named "Via," which has commenced business in these days at Berlin.

CAMPBELL

They handed the alleged slayer the confession.

With trembling hands, he held it and read it to himself for 15 minutes. He turned the pages over and over again.

"Is that your signature?" the prosecutor bit out.

"Yes," Campbell gulped. "That is my signature. I signed it all right. But some of it is true and some of it isn't."

Campbell admitted that he had used other names and was in prison in Mexico and Auburn.

Used Morphine

"Didn't you say that you used morphine until the time of your arrest?"

"Yes. I also used a needle."

"Didn't you say when you admitted writing these letters (holding up letters written by Campbell to Mrs. Mowry) that you didn't know what you were doing and that you were full of drugs when you wrote them?"

"I don't remember the letters."

The witness admitted using the name "Dick" during his correspondence.

"Didn't you say that you had a discussion with Mrs. Mowry on your way from Philadelphia to Dover?"

"What was the discussion?"

"I wanted her to go home to Greenville. She didn't want to leave me."

"You told her you were married at that time?"

"Yes."

David went into details of the confession. Campbell said that he had met Mrs. Mowry through a matrimonial agency some time last August.

Theology Students Draw Ethical Code

Boston, June 12 — Although preachers and ministers have often drawn up codes of ethics for college students, seldom has a group of college students formulated a code of ethics for preachers.

Yet, that was just what members of this year's graduating class at Boston university's school of Theology did.

Preachers need ethics, according to the students, who drew up the code which they believed was necessary to the whole ministerial profession. The code was adopted after 40 different draftings, and after the opinion of theology students in all the major seminaries in the country had been consulted.

The code was as follows: "We will keep ourselves physically fit."

"In matters of business, we will account exactly, meet obligations promptly, and preserve absolute integrity."

"Our means, over which we are stewards, we will conserve and share wisely."

"We will not plagiarize."

"We will honor all confidences."

"We consider it unethical to make overtures to a church whose pastor has not resigned."

"We will be fair to our predecessors and successors."

"Our time, a sacred trust, we dedicate to the care of humanity, especially those sick of mind and heart. We will be sensitive to both spiritual and material needs."

"In the conduct of our personal life we will act so as never to bring reproach on our calling."

British Interested In Colorado Mines

Denver, June 12 — Invasion of British financial interests into the Colorado coal industry has been planned, according to reports, with the construction of $300,000 manufacturing unit for the production of brick coal, a new fuel that solves the lignite coal smoke problem.

The British project in Colorado is the first move to establish in the United States an industry that has become prosperous in England and Germany.

Lignite coal, it was pointed out, contains much moisture and volatiles which work to the disadvantage of the consumer. These contents are taken out of the coal by the new process. The resulting product gives a hot flame practically free from disagreeable gases.

The extracted properties of the coal are made into many by-products. The most important is the carbon, which is passed through a heavy oil. The oil collects the carbon, and the resulting mixture is a lubricating automobile oil that has become extremely popular among motorists. It was stated that 20 percent of all lubricating oil now being used in Germany comes from the new coal process.

Big League Trading Season Comes To End In Three Days

Yanks Have Tough Time Making Deal

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
New York, June 12.—In three days they will blow the whistle on the major league trading for the rest of the 1929 season, in view of which it is interesting to note today a state of affairs that bodes ill, as we say at the Delicatessen store, for the current champions of the world. The American league apparently has turned thumbs down on the New York Yankees.

There evidently isn't to be much in the way of trading in either league during some overnight transfers of players. Consequently, there probably will be none for the Yankees, unless they have been misinformed. This once institution winner of three pennants and successive series in a minimum number of games, is in the toughest spot it has known since 1925 when it had to be led out behind the old barn and mercifully shot. Is the rest of the league poised to learn of this? Don't make me laugh; I'm on my way to a funeral.

League Uninteresting
The rest of the league seems to be looking out the window in a very pointed manner as Miller Huggins attempts to convince it that it is important that he get another pitcher. He, of course, is very foolish to attempt this; the league was convinced of the fact as long ago as last April.

Huggins thought he had Hadley from the Washington club, for Griffith was after Ben Paschal, the outfielder, and might have gone for the business under more encouraging auspices.

There were only three things against the trade from Griffith's standpoint: First, he picked up Ira Flagstead; second, Hadley began to win; third, he feared the city of Washington might become irked, the city of Washington being very dependable about things like that. If you give it a chance, it will kick right in your face. Griffith did not to give it a chance.

Loses All Hope
Huggins has abandoned all hope, too, if chivvying the Red Sox out of Ed Morris. Even the Boston club, which used to board some of the local help until Huggins needed them, no longer will do business with the Yankees. The White Sox might; also the Indians. However, Huggins has tried to do business in both directions during recent years without getting anywhere or anything.

The Athletics will do no business and you can go and bet on it. The only business yet to be transacted at Shibe park is with the man who wants the world series tickets. I don't think either the Browns or the Tigers would be more than politely interested in a proposition, either, although the latter need a shortstop worse than a head needs the average neck.

Therefore, it looks very much as though the American League has decided that the Yankees must live off their own fat or die in their own blood.

There has been some talk of the Dodgers sending Mcweeney and Reineke to the Reds for Donahue, Kolp and Zitzmann but so far as I know, they are still talking.

Auto Racing Pit Scene of Great Hustle and Rush

Akron, O., June 12.—One of the chief places of interest to the speed fans at all auto events at the Akron-Cleveland Board Speedway where the Buckeye Classic a 100-mile event is scheduled to be run off Sunday afternoon, June 16, is the row of pits on the inside of the home straightaway.

They are interesting beehives of activity, each car has a pit for making mechanical adjustments, tire changes and for taking on fuel supplies.

It is from the pit that the driver is coached by means of blackboard signs—is told who is ahead of him, and who is threatening to replace him, how far he has gone, how far he has to go, what tires are beginning to show signs of wear, when he should go in for gas or oil or water, etc. Skidding to a stop in front of his pit, the driver's helpers have his car on a jack even before it comes to a complete rest, put fresh water in the radiator, more gas in the tank, tire in place, all in quicker time than the pilot can down a bottle of "coke." Everything is pre-arranged and there is no lost motion. Tires are changed in terms of seconds, 17 or 18 seconds being a mediocre time for replacing the tire.

"NOT A COUGH IN A CARLOAD"

Jimmy Maloney Will Meet Johnny Risko In Return Go

Boston, June 12.—Inaugurating one of the biggest outdoor boxing shows in the history of Boston, Jimmy Maloney, of South Boston, and Johnny Risko, of Cleveland, meet in a return engagement at Braves Field on the night of June 17. First announcement was that the match would close the indoor season in the Hub and would be held at the Boston Garden.

Arrangements were completed to make available the first base and third base sections at the Wigwam, and indications pointed to a record attendance on the night of the observance of the battle of Bunker Hill.

Dispute Arose
Although "Dynamite Jim" was given the decision after ten rounds, Risko has contended that he was given the worst of the verdict and there were thousands in the thronged Garden who also were of the opinion that the Cleveland "Rubber Man" should have won.

Maloney, however, was satisfied that he had taken the measure of Risko and had earned the verdict, and for a long time refused flatly to listen to another meeting.

Since that night, however, the status of both Maloney and Risko has been changed somewhat.

Risko, in winning a decision over Otto Von Porat, former Norwegian Royal Guard, in what was probably one of the biggest fistic upsets of the winter season, occupied a position near the top of the heap scrambling for Gene Tunney's vacated crown. But whatever prestige he won that night, he lost a little later when Max Schmeling, sensation German heavyweight, caught him on the whiskers, and Risko counted the punk elephants.

Maloney's Hard Luck
Maloney likewise suffered adversity. After outpointing Riccardo Bertazzolo, Italian champion at the Garden for three rounds, the South Boston fighter let a hard right go after the bell for the fourth round, and felled the lumbering Italian like an ox. The latter was awarded the decision on a foul. It was Maloney's only setback since he started his comeback a year ago.

In his past three bouts here against Maloney, Ernie Schaaf, ex-gob formerly of Elizabeth, N. J., and against the rangy Von Porat, Risko has made a big hit with the fans because of his persistent gameness. Eddie Mack, promoter at the Hub Garden, predicted another capacity house when Risko and Maloney clash.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

Our astonishment at the way good food is sold in market places abroad is only equaled by the amusement with which French women, in particular, regard our passion for wrapping everything. In the French streets it's a regular sight—the half-yard of bread tucked under the housewife's arm, and no paper or anything to cover it. Not that the streets abroad are more immaculate than ours, or that their germs are better trained and don't alight on exposed stuffs. Merely habit—and rigid economy.

Here everything we buy is wrapped most skillfully. Bread comes in tightly sealed wrappers and quite mechanically the grocer will wrap your pound of butter in an extra paper, despite the fact that it comes in its own carton, oil-paper lined. So much the better. Here we believe there's no such thing as too much vigilance in protecting our foods from exposure to the dirt-laden air.

Yet, in handling foods, once they get into the home, there are some habits which rather nullify the work of the manufacturer who so carefully wraps everything—and for which, incidentally, we pay when we buy these well-protected foods. One curious habit which is found in many kitchens is to toss the loaf of bread, paper and all, into the nice clean bread box. Now, all though the paper wrapper protects the bread, the wrapper itself is kept exposed, both in transportation to the shop and while on the grocer's shelves. Therefore, it should be removed immediately it comes into the kitchen. Only the bread should be kept in the breadbox—never the paper.

Similarly, the carefully wrapped meat comes from the butcher and is placed, paper and all, in the refrigerator. No so good—for several reasons. Paper which has been handled by several persons and exposed to the outside air shouldn't be placed in the immaculate clean refrigerator. Also, if the meat is covered by thick paper it is kept from thorough chilling in the refrigerator. Consequently, the better plan is to remove meat immediately it comes to the kitchen from its paper wrapping, place in the plate or bowl reserved for the purpose, and put in the refrigerator where it will be kept thoroughly cold until ready to use.

Any food that comes wrapped in paper boxes or cartons should be removed immediately and stored in the kitchen in tin, glass or china containers. To leave an opened paper box on the kitchen shelf is to invite any insects that may be lurking in the neighborhood—and some always are. The insect world is always with us, whether within easy visible distance or not. Any exposed food will bring them out in an amazingly brief space of time.

But there are other kinds of containers so specially adapted to their foods that they need only be kept as is. Coffee that comes in well-sealed tins need not be transferred, but opened so that the lid is not broken and can always be replaced so as to keep the jar airtight. Olive oil in tins should be left there. It should not be poured even in small quantities in glass bottles and left to stand. Olive oil is affected adversely by sunlight, and should be kept in an opaque container.

Any liquid foods that are bought in paper jars—like cream, milk, peanut butter, etc., should be transferred immediately to some more substantial bowl or pitcher. While these containers are made quite sturdy, nevertheless prolonged soaking may affect the flavor of the food—milk and cream being especially sensitive and absorptive.

By Jeannette Young Norton

You have to make a choice in chicken, just as one must about beef. Fine, expensive cuts are usually the tender ones. But if the truth be told, the best flavor is usually found in the coarser, and therefore cheaper cuts.

Spring chicken—which is a bird not more than five months old—is usually tender; but it has not as fine flavor as the full-grown fowl which is a year old. Of course, feeding has something to do with flavor too, and how choicely reared has been the bird you buy, depends on the standards of your butcher. In any case, the scales should be yellow and soft, the breastbone tender, the skin under leg or wing easily broken, and the joints flexible. And chicken freshly killed and drawn has the best flavor. However, always wash inside and out with water in which a teaspoonful of soda has been dissolved. Then wipe dry.

There's only one thing to do with a spring chicken—prepare it so that its tenderness and flavor are at maximum. That means broiling. Split the chicken in half, wipe dry, and spread with butter all over. Place on a broiler with inside exposed to flame, and broil slowly for about 25 minutes. Then turn the skin side to the flame to let it brown. Add salt just before serving. To salt before cooking will only draw out the juices.

The larger birds can be roasted, smothered, or baked in a casserole.

Smothered Chicken

2 small chickens
2 tablespoons butter, salt and pepper.

Soak the chickens in cold water for about half an hour to blanch. "Smothered" chicken is especially white always. Cut in quarters and place in a covered baking dish with bits of butter. Cover tightly and let bake about an hour. Add salt and pepper and continue baking ten or 15 minutes longer. This is almost as good as broiled chicken.

Another method of preparing chicken in fricassee fashion is especially popular in the South.

Brunswick Stew

1 5-pound chicken
4 tomatoes
1 onion
2 cups of corn, cut from cob
2 cups lima beans
3 tablespoons of butter
1 teaspoonful salt
1/2 teaspoonful pepper.
2 cups hot water.

Heat the butter in a large saucepan. Brown each piece of chicken in it quickly on both sides. Add the sliced onion and the hot water and cook over a moderate flame for one hour. Then add the other ingredients and continue to simmer for another hour.

A chicken fricassee can be made with a variety of ingredients, and this may explain why chicken rarely gets monotonous, although it may be served frequently. Some use salt pork as shortening instead of butter, and it does take away the insipidity of the dish. Other vegetables may be added, so that a chicken becomes a complete meal in itself. Peas, mushrooms, celery, carrots, potatoes, chives, are some of the additions to flavorful fricassees.

If you wish to make sure of a good chicken jelly, add a knuckle of veal to the chicken which is then covered with plenty of cold water and boiled slowly for several hours. Veal added to chicken for a meat loaf or for chicken salad or chicken patties helps to add flavor.

U. S. NOW HAS MOTOR CAR FOR EACH 5 PEOPLE

Rural Areas Boost Total Of Machines Used; Lead Cities

New York, June 12.—There is about one motor vehicle to each five persons or the average American family, statistics of the industry recently released by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, show.

Wealth, without doubt, is concentrated in cities, but whether residents of the great cities are wealthier than their country cousins becomes doubtful when figures of the motor industry are scanned. New York has appropriated money for new bridges and for elevated motor roads, Chicago tries to solve the traffic jams of the Loop, giving the average American the idea that most automobiles and trucks are located in cities.

In Rural Sections

As a matter of fact 28 per cent of all automobiles and 24 per cent of all trucks, the largest percentages in the various divisions of population, are found in towns and rural sections of less than 1,000 persons. Cities over 500,000 stand second, but only 11 per cent of the automobiles and 14 per cent of trucks are centered in them.

Although the American dollar has increased in value and prosperity continues, installment buying continues its popularity in 1928, statistics show. According to the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, the automobile dollar of 1914 was worth at the end of 1928, $113. Shifting from "hard cash" to farm products in terms of their buying power, it is interesting to note what the farmer in terms of grain or livestock paid for his automobile in 1913 as compared to 1928. The amount of produce necessary to buy an automobile in each period is shown in the following table:

Product	1913	1928
Cotton, bales	20.3	10.3
Corn, bu.	2.42	1.143
Wheat, bu.	1.562	.930
Wool, lbs.	6.550	2.550
Cattle, lbs.	22.550	10.220
Hogs, lbs.	18.000	11.210

Despite the increased purchasing power of the dollar, and of farm products, 58 per cent of all new cars and 60 per cent of used cars were bought on time.

27,000 Killed

Twenty-seven thousand persons were killed by automobiles or in automobiles last year, an increase of 2,650 over 1927. However, comparing the number of fatalities to the number of persons owning cars, fatalities have been reduced since 1917. Of every 10,000 automobile owners there were 178 persons killed in 1917. In 1928 the figures showed a decrease to 102 per hundred thousand, but an increase over 1926 and 1927, when they were only 95 and 97 fatalities respectively for each 100,000.

The comfortable closed car continues to grow in popularity. In 1919 only ten per cent of all automobiles were of the closed type. In 1928 eighty-nine per cent were closed cars.

The automobile industry, producing 4,358,748 cars in the United States last year, employed 4,441,000 persons, almost one person for every car manufactured. The actual manufacture of motor vehicles is limited to nine states: Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Missouri, Connecticut, New York, Wisconsin, Virginia and Delaware.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, June 12.—The scarf is omnipresent this year, with the dressmakers putting it on every kind of costume to be worn from dawn to dusk.

One of them is even making a scarf-cap for beach-wear, so that the wearer looks very much like a pirate, with impression intensified by the large earring made of three or four rings placed one within the other and gradually diminishing. Only one is provided and the effect is even more intriguing. Of course the scarf matches the beach cushion, rug and parasol.

All of the new scarfs are amusing and original in shape or coloring. Then intended for wear with the tailleur give a neat finish to the neck when needed. Others have a rakish air such as a triangle form of red georgette lined with white, and one corner drawn through a large red-enamelled ring.

Another in cravat form has a center of white crepe de Chine printed in red and black leaves, while the ends are of plain black.

There are black scarfs painted in silver or gold, or with motifs combining all the latest colors. Wool scarfs for sports wear reproduce in cross-stitch work a most vivid landscape scene in which are included soft trees and rolling lawns.

Waterproof scarfs that can trail into your cocktail of onion soup and be no worse for wear, are to be found at another dealers.

Collarless necks are approved for sports costumes with cunning little straight scarves folded around the two ends falling to the shoulder blades, giving a slightly back-to-front air.

One dressmaker puts dainty orange-lime collars that keep one sipping and sewing.

In a day the average adult breathes 400 cubic feet of air.

"My boy, 7, would not eat, I gave him Vinol and the way he eats, he plays now makes me happy. He gained 15 pounds."—J. E. Andrews. Vinol is a delicious compound of cod liver oil, iron, etc. The very FIRST bottle often adds several pounds weight to thin children or adults. Nervous, easily tired, anemic people are surprised how Vinol gives new pep, sound sleep and a BIG appetite. Tastes delicious. J. H. Lease Drug Company.

SEE CHICAGO AS GREATEST CITY BY YEAR 1950

Vision Great Progress By
Illinois Metropolis
In Future

Chicago, June 12.—That Chicago will be the greatest city in the world by 1950, is the prediction made by A. Lawrence Brown, speaking before the Traffic Club.

The city's dominance as a transportation center will result in a population of 10,000,000 or more by that time, he said.

"Chicago," said Brown, who is a research engineer in the field of transportation, "is the only city in the world whose growth has kept pace with the growth of its railroads. Although the roads are not adding more trackage to the network of rails in the city at present, Chicago will continue its rapid growth because traffic over these lines will always be increasing due to higher efficiency.

"Since 1850 Chicago has developed into the metropolis it is. That year, there were only 110 miles of railroads in Illinois. But with the phenomenal increase of trackage in successive generations, the city grew by leaps and bounds and it has never ceased growing.

"The efficient standard of railroad transportation maintained since 1850, coupled with the new outlet for traffic through the Lakes to Gulf waterway—scheduled for completion by 1931—and the St. Lawrence waterway, will all contribute toward Chicago's coming 10,000,000 population.

Brown also asserted that growth of railroads and railroad efficiency has always resulted in growth of industry, which is the most important contributing factor in a city's growth.

London Bobbies Now To Be Americanized

London, June 12.—The "Bobbie," one of London's most famous sights, is to be Americanized.

No longer will be American tourist experience that old delight in gazing on the imposing figures of the London "Bobbies" as they stand in the middle of Trafalgar Square or Piccadilly Circus, directing traffic.

The most attractive thing about them—pointed helmet, with the fog-lamp attachment in front—is to be done away with as also is their tunic and belt.

An official announcement reveals these drastic changes in the uniform of the metropolitan police. In the future, the uniforms will be similar to those of the New York police. A neat, peaked cap will take the place of the helmet. Serge jackets are to be substituted for the suffocating, leather-belted tunics, and there will be no more lanterns suspended round the waist.

Instead of the great double-breasted top-coat, which makes the regulation six-foot "Bobbie" seem incredibly tall, a kind of Chesterfield, open at the neck, with lapel and storm collar that can be turned up when the fogs begin to get "peasoupy," will be worn.

Thus, these awe-inspiring figures, whom Londoners boast are the "finest" in the world, will become just "cops."

Newspaper Ads For Bank Robbers Bring Quick Reply

Five Men Report After
Ad. For Thugs Is Inserted

New York, June 12.—It's just as easy, apparently, to locate a reformed bank robber through the want-ad columns as it is to find a good salesman, a re-write man or an executive.

This was indicated by the experience of Bankers Industrial Exposition which inserted the following ad in the papers:

"Wanted, a reformed bank robber."

Five men immediately reported to Exposition Headquarters. They looked the part; an uneasy, furtive lot. The bankers wanted one of them to demonstrate new burglar-proof devices for banks.

Asks About "Dicks"

"Any dicks here?" was one of the queries of the applicants. "We're through with the bank robbing racket, but you can never tell what these bulls will do."

Also, they wanted no publicity. The successful applicant was reassured when he was told that while demonstrating his "art" he could wear a mask.

Donning a black mask that hid his features, he showed just how robbing a bank was accomplished. Unconsciously, some of the bankers who had suffered losses through hold-ups, were thrown into a reminiscent mood.

The reformed bank robber entered a room where the safe was situated. He glanced at his watch. It was time for the mock bank robbery. He pulled a towel from beneath his coat and wrapped it around his right fist. Then he punched a hole in the glass.

But—

An alarm went off. The "crook"

16 Years Blind, Regains Sight

Baltimore, June 12.—Baseball was the first thing Clifford Dillon, of Webb, W. Va., thought of today when he saw the light for the first time in his 16 years.

An operation at the Baltimore Eye, Ear and Throat hospital removed cataracts from his heretofore sightless eyes. When the bandages were removed his finger was lifted before him and he was able to see it. Later, when his eyes could stand more light, he saw trees and the sky.

He yearns to see a baseball game, many of which have been described to him when he attended them with friends.

TALKIES SUCCESS ALARMS LONDON

London, June 12.—Frankly alarmed at the unparalleled success of the "talkies" in London legitimate and vaudeville theatre owners and managers are banding together to fight the invader tooth and nail.

Many devices for making banks safe for the funds of depositors were shown. One exhibit made it apparent that the big scene in the "Alias Jimmy Valentine" stage play of a number of years ago—the locking of a human being in a safe—would not likely happen today in these more enlightened times.

Secret Air Chambers
Vaults with secret air chambers that can be opened from the inside as well as from the outside were displayed. These were devised for the protection of bank employees who might be shoved into a safe during a holdup. Delicate devices for sounding alarms from all parts of banks, and even from the safes, were exhibited.

Bank executives from all parts of the United States visited the exposition, and many of them had devices on display. John G. Gould, executive secretary of the exposition, said that it is now impossible to break into a modern bank without the assistance of someone on the inside.

Home Worth
A very pleasant time was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Thomas in Homeworth Saturday when a number of friends and neighbors called at their home in honor of the 13th anniversary of their marriage and also Mr. Thomas' birthday anniversary. Games and radio music were enjoyed and an excellent luncheon was served. A number of beautiful presents were received.

Children's meeting at the Presbyterian Sunday school was largely attended Sunday night. A splendid program was given.
Mr. and Mrs. William Slabaugh and children of Akron were guests of relatives in this vicinity over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Davidson and children left Saturday morning for Detroit, Michigan, where they will spend their vacation.

Glennwood and Willard Sanox were to Berea Monday.
Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Anna Baird Beck, 64, of Thelma City which occurred at the Alliance City hospital Saturday morning. Deceased was born and raised at Homeworth, a daughter of the late William Baird. Surviving are nine children, three sisters and two brothers. The funeral service was held Monday from the Church of Christ in charge of Rev. Shafer. She was a member of the Church of Christ. Burial in Grandview cemetery, Sebring.

Ashabula, O. June 12.—John Burke, 34, operator of a little stand at Woodland Beach Park, a summer resort here, was telling his friends today how it feels to become a multi-millionaire overnight.

The estate, Burke told reporters today, is appraised at more than $10,000,000. He said the attorneys had informed him that he and his wife were to share jointly in the entire estate.

Will You Forget?

YOUR OWN baby's smile. You think that you can never forget it. But you will forget it—as well as all the other mannerisms of babyhood—unless you save them in Kodak pictures.

Don't wait until your youngster grows up and it's too late. Get a Kodak now and get those precious pictures. We'd like to show you our Kodak line. Prices are moderate.
